

Agreement to the terms this contract provides you with an opportunity to access and utilize the Soil Test Analysis Tool (STAT) program to assist with the interpretation of current and prospective customer soil tests to identify practices and technologies capable of improving crop production through prudent and judicious use of specific products and/or inputs.

Due to the vast extent of intellectual property found within this program, it is important that specific confidentiality and non-disclosure protocols and regulations be incorporated and enforced to prevent careless or unintentional release of the program itself or to the sensitive information found within the program.

Accordingly, by assuming access to the STAT program and to the policies that govern it, compliance with the following terms and directives is mandated...

1. Under no circumstances should any electronic version (old or new) be provided or shared with anyone outside of NAS or LPI.
2. No electronic, printed, copied, facsimile, or written version of the STAT program output shall be e-mailed, transferred, or left behind or provided to any customers or potential customers under any circumstances.

Failure to fulfill the requirements and terms of this contractual document may result in (but not limited to) rescinded access to the tool and the potential for disciplinary action.

Contractual Agreement: I have read and understand the information provided above. Further, I recognize and acknowledge that by checking the "Agree and Consent" box found herein, I am imparting my voluntary agreement to utilize the Soil Test Analysis Tool within the constraints and stipulations of this agreement.
